NEW RULES ON THE UNION PACIFIC

Short Line and O. R. & N. to Fall in Line.

THE SYSTEM OF DISCIPLINE

Plan of G. R. Brown, General Superintendent, Fall Brook Railway, to Go Into Effect, September 1.

Word has come from the Union Pacific headquarters to the effect that the Brown system of discipline will be put into operation on September 1. This system will also be adopted by the Oregon Short Line on the same date with the certainty that the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company will fall into line in that direction in the near future. Under this new order the thousands of employes upon the three systems that extend from Portland to the Missouri river will ultimately be affected.

The main feature of the system is the cultivation of a better feeling between the employee and the officials who are placed over them. In a brief sentence it can be summed up as being discipline without suspension. This system is rapidly being adopted by the leading railroads of this continent.

Under the old system railroad employes were reprimanded, suspended, with loss of nay for stand particle or with loss of pay for stated periods, or

Under the Brown system each employe's service is by record only and in the record book is kept his whole service record. This is operated on the principle of a ledger with a good and bad, a debit and credit, account under each new leader of the principle of a ledger with a good and bad, a debit and credit, account under each name. Instead of being suspender for a stated period for violation of rules, damage caused by carelessness or sonal matters affecting the good of the

That is one record only. On the other hand, a clear record needs no entries, hand, a clear record needs no entries, but that does not prevent special mention being made on the record for any acts of bravery or heroism, special acts of loyalty or protection of the company's interest. In fact, the Brown system is, one that gives full credit to all the employes and the good record may be used to wipe out the bad record; for instance, on one road a reprimand will be canceled by a perfect record for three months; a suspension of ten days will be cancelled by a perfect record of six months, and so on.

six months, and so on.
Under the present system a division superintendent may be the only one who knows of an employe's good acts, but under the Brown system his record tells the whole story to the general operat. ing department

A continued bad record may be cause for dismissal from the service, as may also a violation of rules serious enough to merit the extreme punishment.

This new system, which derives its title from G. R. Brown, general super-intendent of the Fall Brook railway, the originator of the plan, includes bulletins, which are posted to bring to every employe's notice certain violations, carlessness and the like, on the bottom of which may be added a warning from the superintendent.

GORGEOUS OFFICES.

Several Railroad Companies on the Move in Salt Lake.

General Agent Neslen of the Burling. ton expects to give his housewarming in the new quarters of the C. B. & Q. in the Eagle block within the next ten days. The furniture and fixtures for the new palatial office left Denver last night with the balance to follow on Monday, Just as soon as it arrives in fixing up the premises prior to occu-pancy. When the work is completed the Burlington will shine as having the most gorgeous abode of any transportation company in this city.

This triumph will be short-lived, however, as the Union Pacific intends to eclipse all previous efforts in that direction by thoroughly transforming the office on the Kenyon corner. Mr. Choate has the blue prints of the proposed change in his drawer, while an order has been placed for the fixtures and furni-ture with the result that workmen will be put on the reconstruction a few days after the Burlington officials move across the street.
On top of these changes comes the word that the Santa Fe and the Frisco lines are contemplating descending from their eeries in the Dooly and D. F. Walker blocks respectively and wooing patronage through the plate glass win-dows of offices abutting the street.

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVES. Revolution in the Size and Power of the Iron Horse,

Beginning with the adoption of modern valve gear in about 1860, and during the intervening period of 40 years, the typical American passenger locomotive has increased its size of cylinder from 16x22 inches to 26x28 inches, or practically doubled the cubic capacity says the Spaces Spaces. capacity, says the Spokane Spokesman The diameter of the driving wheels which nowadays causes the chance ob-server astonishment on account of its server astonamment on account of its great size, has increased from five feet to as high as eight feet eix inches. The pressure of steam used has grown from 100 pounds in 1860 to 250 pounds. The ability to draw loads has been more than trebled. The diameter of the boiler shell, and hence the steam capacity, has grown from less than four feet to nearly six feet. The total weight of the nearly six feet. The total weight of the engine was about 61,000 pounds in 1860, is now in extreme cases as high as 173,000 pounds.

The freight locomotive has had a similar increase in size. Beginning with lotomotives of about the size of the passenger engines in 1890, the extreme development has been reached in an en development has been reached in an engine recently built for the Illinois Central, which has a total weight of 232,200 pounds. This locomotive is the heaviest in the world. It is predicted that freight engines of the future will reach a total weight of 211,000 pounds, almost a third heavier than the heaviest locomotive in existence today.

Earnings of Southern Pacific.

A dispatch from San Francisco today to the "News," says:

Probably the last important official act C. P. Huntington performed before his death was to approve and issue for the information of the stock and bond holders of the Southern Pacific company a statement for its carnings and expenditures for the facel year ending.

"Chapman and I have ordered a new motorcycle. It will be a two and a quarter horse power, the same make as that of the Turville Bros. We ex-pect it in about two weeks. When it its here we would like to get a match th the Turvilles, and to that end we we challenge them to a race for any distance or any amount of money they might name. We suggest that $250 of $200 would be a reasonable purse. The side bet we will make for any amount from $100 to $1,000. The Turville boys are good, strong riders and have a good machine and we would like to give them a whirl for their money. In the meantime we awaft their pleasure."

A FAMILY FIGHT.

Father-in-Law and Son-in-Law Engages in a Merry Mix Up.

Lake street, an alley which runs North and South between Eighth and Ninth South, was the scene of a lively row about 10 o'clock last night. Two men by the names of Julius Johnson and James Hendrickson, the former being the son-in-law of the latter, oc-cupy two houses side by side. Hen-drickson, who peddles fish, came home drickson, who peddles ash, came home slightly intoxicated and in a quarrel-some mood and going to the house of his son-in-law vowed his intention of killing him. He proceeded to carry out his threat but Johnson objected and defended himself, the outcome being that the older man got the worst of the board and the process. the bout and is now in a badly battered condition. The neighbors all say that Johnson was right in what he did as Hendrickson is the terror of the neighborhood. Johnson, on the contrary, is said to be a sober, industrious young man, and a peaceful citizen, really supporting both families. Hendrickson is well known to the drickson is well known to the police and has been up before the city justice several times, the last time being about two weeks ago when a message was sent to police headquarters that a crazy man was roaming around on Eighth South. When the police reached the place they found it was Hendrickson who was crazy drunk. The horse that the old man drives to peddle fish is an object of pity and the case is one that the society of prevention of cruelty to animals should seafter. The neighbors say that the animal is not only starved but for days and days this summer it has been left without water. The old man is given a free peddling license by the city.

SENT FOR A POLICEMAN. Mr. Walker Got One for the Ball Game This Afternoon.

Nothing recking the mandate of J. R. Walker against Gimlin to the effect that the Ogden player would not be permitted to take part in the game this afternoon the nine from the Junction City came to town this noon with Gimin (he of the oratorical proclivities) at their head.

By two o'clock this afternoon it was openly asserted by the visiting nine that Gimlin would play or there would be no game. On the other hand J. R. Walker was equally emphatic to the extent that the visiting elocutionist and exponent of America's national game should not play on his field and to play the play of the play ould not play on his field and to clinch argument the owner requested the chief of police to send an officer to the ball grounds, Accordingly Officer Sper-ry was sent to the scene post haste to lay in ambush for the visitors.

At the time of going to press the Ordenites were indulging in large pieces of chorus and solo crations for the edi-fication of the blenchers, who in turn took up the refrain "play ball" and hurled defiance at the distant Wasatch

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION

Mme. A. Ruppert's World Renowned Face Bleach almost

Madame A. Ruppert says:

"I know there are many ladies who would like to try the merits of my Face Bleach, but on account of the price, which is $2.00 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.00, have had some hesitancy in spending this amount to convince themselves of its great value. Therefore, during this month, will depart from my usual custom and offer to all a trial bottle, sufficient to show that it is all that I claim for it, for 25 certs per bottle. Any reader of this can send me 26 cents in stamps or silver, and I will send them a trial bottle of my world-renowned Face Bleach, securely packed in plain wrapper, scaled, all charges prepaid. An opportunity to test so famous a remedy at so slight a cost is seldom offered, and I trust that the readers of this will take advantage of it at once, as the offer may not be repeated.

Madame A. Ruppert has now been before the public for over twenty years as the Madame A. Ruppert says:

Madame A. Ruppert has now been before the public for over twenty years as the greatest Complexion Specialist.

She is the pioneer in her art, and stands pre-eminent at the head; she has had thousands of imitators, but not a single competitor. Face Bleach is not a new untried remedy, but has been used by the lest people for years, and for dissolving and removing tan, sunburn, moth, freckles, sallowness, blackheads, eczema, pimples, roughness or redeess of the skin, and for brightening and beautifying the complexion, it has no equal.

It is Absolutely Harmless to the most Delicate Skin

The marvelous improvement after a few applications is most apparent, for the skin becomes as nature intended it should be, SMOOPH, CHARLAND, WHITE, free from becomes as nature intended it should be, SMOOTH, CLEAR AND Will'E, free from every impurity and blemish. It cannot fail, for its action is such that it draws the impurities out of the skin, and does not cover them up, and is invisible during use. This is the only thorough and permanent way. For the present I will, as stated above, send a trial bottle of my Face Bleach to anyone who will remit me 25 cents in stamps or silver. Madame A. Ruppert's book. "How to Be Beautiful," which contains many points of great interest to ladies, will be mailed free upon application.
